IMPORTANT NEWS QUICKLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings from All Over the State

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD

Lexington.—Standing with bared heads before the last resting places of Generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, twenty New England business men touring the State as guests of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, reverently laid two beautiful wreaths upon the tombs of Virginia's two greatest figures of the War Between the States.

Danville. — Advices from Patrick county tell of the wounding of Dave Campion, described as a suspected bootlegger, who is understood to have been shot by Federal Prohibition Inspector J. M. Riddle, near Ridgeway in the course of an effort to halt the man driving a car later found to contain fifty gallons of liquor. Details in the shooting are lacking, but Campion is said to be improving at a hospital in Stuart.

Charlottesville.—January, 1925, has been set as the tentative time for the appearance of the first issue of the Virginia Quarterly Review, which is to be published four times a year by the University of Virginia. Dr. James Southall Wilson, who is to be editor of the Review, is now collecting material for the initial issue and it is hoped that he will be able to send this matter to the printer in time for the first number to be out in January. In case of delay the quarterly will not appear until next April.

Lynchburg.—Judge B. P. Christian, in the Corporation Court here, handed down an opinion which reversed the Municipal Court in the lower court's judgment as to the right of the police to assign a stand for the use of one taxicab company to the exclusion of others. The matter arose in a fight between the two local services, resulting in an appeal. Judge Christian's opinion resulted in the discharge of Charles M. Gunter, who was fined $20 in the Municipal Court for using a stand assigned to another concern. The result now will be that a taxicab stand will be available to all concerns here and not exclusive.

Richmond.—Every member of the Richmond detective force, in addition to private detectives, is instituting a nation-wide search for the burglars who entered the store of Nowlan Company, jewelers, 207 West Broad street, and escaped with $10,000 worth of diamonds, watches and other jewelry. Working the entire day, employees of the store vainly attempted to open the door to the huge safe, which was installated by the yeggmen in their efforts to make off with the contents of the safe, $60,000 worth of jewelry and cash. Efforts to open the door were futile, the acetylene torch used by the burglars having melted the combination to the safe.

Richmond.—Dana H. Rucker has been appointed by the Richmond Education Association chairman of committee to undertake the correct taging of the trees in Capitol Square, and $50 has been turned over to him by the association for that purpose. Mr. Rucker declares that he is now making plans to have the work done as promptly as possible. This is only one of the many interests of the organization, which launched the public library, the open air classes in the public schools, the first local kindergarten and is now planning to introduce a public forum in this city. Mrs. Enders Ramsey, Richardson is chairman of a group chosen to conduct a membership campaign by means of which the association hopes to add at least 2,000 names to its roster.

Newport News.—The export business of the port of Newport News has almost doubled for the first seven months of 1924, as compared with the corresponding period of last year. Figures to prove the surprising gain have been issued by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. While the export business of the port has grown beyond all bounds of anticipation, imports appear to have suffered a fractional decline, dropping from 81,098 tons in the first seven months of 1923 to 74,441 tons for the same period of this year. The growth of the exports, however, has more than made up for the loss in imports, for the port has sent ships away with 153,434 tons of general cargo freight, as compared with 30,710 tons shipped out of here in 1923.

Richmond. — Unanimous support was given the community fund drive which begins here November 17 and runs to November 24, for the purpose of obtaining a fund of $400,000, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Murphy's Hotel. This action was taken on motion of Jesse C. Binford, vice president of the club, at the conclusion of an address on the movement by Howard T. Cree, whose topic was "Co-Operation." More than seventy five members of the club signed cards pledging themselves to help raise the fund.

Lynchburg.—A controversy has arisen here between postal authorities and the local police over the right of a policeman to arrest a felony warrant against a chauffeur in charge of a mail transfer truck while on duty. The trouble arose Wednesday night at the Union Station when Patrolman C. H. Gilliam arrested a driver, Walter Mason, negro, charging him with house-breaking. The negro was locked up, leaving the motorcar to secure a substitute to handle transfer mail.

Newport News.—Eleven persons are dead and four injured, three of them seriously, as the result of a Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train, bound for Old Point, striking a motor bus at Lee's Crossing, near Hampton. There were fifteen people in the bus, and how any of them escaped with their lives is difficult to understand, for the bus was smashed to splinters and the dead and dying were strewn along the track for a distance of a hundred yards or more.

Richmond.—Former patients of Dr. McGuire Newton, youngsters whose first moments in the world of reality were administered by his kindly hands, are seeking to raise a sufficient amount to erect a bronze tablet to the memory of the famous child specialist, and money of all denominations is being received for the purpose from the youngest aggregation of donors in the history of the city. The tablet, it is planned, will bear the words: "In gratitude to him, patients, friends and admirers have organized the McGuire Newton foundation and have co-operated with other agencies in establishing this clinic to perpetuate and enlarge that service to childhood, to which he devoted his life." Before the services will take place during Christmas week, at the clinic, Eleventh and Clay streets.

Lynchburg.—With the State meeting occurring at Richmond in about six weeks, George H. Bowles, State Secretary, has sent a letter to the locals of the Virginia Co-Operative and Educational Union, in which the locals here are being urged to have representatives at the meeting. The effort of the State headquarters here now is to make the Staunton convention the best and largest the State Union has held since it was formed fifteen years ago. Credential blanks have been mailed from the headquarters to all of the counties which have county organizations. The letter also urges the locals to begin lining up for the 1925 membership, holding that the matter of securing members for next year should not be left until after the State convention, but plans should be made now.

Harrisonburg.—Miss Naomi B. Miller, of Bridgewater, this county, has been awarded the $100 prize offered by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for the "outstanding boy and girl agricultural club member" in six Shenandoah Valley counties, County Agent Wampler was advised. The money is to be used for an educational trip or for a course in a State educational institution. Miss Miller is secretary of her club, and has made an enviable record, both in the county and State. She has won more poultry prizes at the State Fair than any other club member, and was a member of the judging team which represented Rockingham county in the national poultry judging contest at Madison Square Garden last winter.

Winchester. — How a physician for more than twenty years acted as executor of a will under the impression that it had been duly executed and recorded, and had disposed of thousands of dollars under provisions of the will, when, as a matter of fact, there was no record of the will, came to light with the entering of a decree in Corporation Court, probating a copy of the will as the "true and last will" of the decedent. When Miss Mildred B. Ewell died in February, 1899, leaving an estate worth about $50,000, as money was counted then, her will appointed a relative, Dr. Jesse Ewell, as executor. He qualified as the will in court here, but it seems to have been mislaid or lost. However, Dr. Ewell had a copy made and took it with him to his home at Rucksersville, Va. He died in 1921, and only recently there was found among some of his papers a copy of Miss Ewell's will, according to a note he had written thereon. As a result of a friendly suit being instituted here, Judge Whiting decreed that the paper found among Dr. Ewell's effects be "probated and recorded as the real and true will of Miss Mildred Ewell. The Ewell estate is now in the hands of the city sergeant. Much of the property consists of valuable residences here. Most of the estate was disposed of by Dr. Ewell during his life time as directed by the will, a copy of which he had in his possession.

Danville.—W. Giles, a farmer of the Wyo section, has experienced his fourth fire within a year. On Wednesday night a tobacco barn containing several curings of tobacco went up in smoke with a loss of several hundred dollars. A year ago he suffered the loss of a curing, this being followed by the destruction of a barn containing eight curings. Of the other fire, still later, destroyed his dwelling, all of its contents. He had no insurance on any of his property.

PETER'S CONFESSION

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 16:13-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.—Matt. 16:16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Speaks Out for Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Takes His Stand.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Duties and Glory of Confession.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Does It Matter What One Believes Concerning Christ?

This confession in some sense marks the turning point in Christ's ministry. Hereafter it is more restricted to His disciples. Two reasons why this should be sufficient are (vv. 1-12): (1) The Pharisees and Sadducees show their attitude toward Him in their demand for a sign. His answer is that none shall be given save that of His death and resurrection, as symbolized in the experiences of the prophet Jonah. (2) The disciples show their inability to understand the spiritual nature of His teaching. When He warned them of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees they understood Him to refer to bread. When He meant their doctrine. It was at this crisis when Christ turned from the nation which had rejected Him that Peter made this great confession. It was made in the borders of Caesarea-Philippi, practically Gentile territory.

I. Question of (vv. 13-16).

Two questions of Christ provoked this confession:

1. The question as to the opinion of people concerning Him.

They recognized Him as a teacher or a prophet of more than human authority and power. Today, as then, there is a diversity of opinion among the people as to Jesus Christ. Some think He is only a man; others that He is a great teacher, but nothing more. Had He been content with this He would not have been molested in His mission, for the great majority acknowledged Him as more than a human teacher. It was His persistent claim to be the God-man, the Son of God, that sent Him to the cross.

2. The second question involved the personal opinion of the disciples concerning Him. To be able to tell what others think of Jesus is not enough; there must be definite, correct and personal belief on Him.

II. The New Body, the Church, Announced (vv. 17-20).

Peter had made a noble confession of Christ, so now Christ confesses him. If we confess Christ He will confess us (Matt. 10:32, 33). Christ declared His intention of bringing into existence a new body to the membership of which He will give eternal life, and to whose hands He will entrust the keys of the kingdom.

Peter was to have a distinguished place in this body. The keys entrusted to Him were used on the day of Pentecost, and again in the case of Cornelius. Assertion in this new body cannot be broken by death, for the gates of hades shall not prevail against it. This body, the church, is of a heavenly origin, a heavenly call and a heavenly inheritance.

III. The Cross the Way to the Throne (vv. 21-23).

This was, no doubt, startling to the disciples. They did not realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion of the cross. So emphatic was this announcement that Peter cried, "This shall not be unto thee." Peter later saw through this darkness to the glory on the hillside beyond. And we have come to it (Heb. 12:2). Victory through death is yet the stumbling block of many. Many are stumbling over the doctrine of salvation and redemption through the suffering of the cross.

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (vv. 24-27).

To follow Christ means suffering. To follow Him is to turn one's back upon the world. Life can only be saved by losing it. If we are going to be Christians we must share Christ's suffering. We cannot go to heaven on flowery beds of ease.

1) There must be denial of self (v. 24). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. Self-denial is practiced everywhere by all people, but only the disciples of Christ or Christian people deny self. Christ takes the place of self.

2) "Take up his cross." This cross is the suffering and shame which lie in the path of loyalty to God. To do our duty will mean suffering (II Tim. 3:12).

3. Follow Christ. This means to have the mind of Christ, to do like Christ. All such shall be rewarded when Christ comes in glory.

What to Hate

I will call you not to hate. Hate hypocrisy; hate cant; hate indolence, oppression, injustice; hate Pharisaism; but hate men as Christ hated them—with a deep, living, God-like hatred.—F. W. Robertson.

With Every Day

Every day, as it rises out of eternity, keeps putting to each of us this question afresh—What will you do before this day has sunk into eternity and nothingness again?—F. W. Robertson.

WHOLE BODY SEEMED IN ONE AWFUL PAIN

Morse, La.—Mrs. L. P. Lambert, who has been a popular school-teacher here for several years, recently told a visitor of her interesting experiences with Cardui.

"Just before my — came on," said Mrs. Lambert, "I would ache all over. My feet, my toes, my arms, hands, head—my whole body seemed to be in one awful pain. I would grow so nervous that I could not hold a cup in my hand. My husband would have to hold my coffee for me to drink. Last fall I was in such a bad condition that I had to spend about three days in bed every month. It seemed to me that I was on my last go-round."

Then one day, said Mrs. Lambert, she happened to read about Cardui and the experiences of some women who had been helped by it. "I felt that Cardui might help me if I tried it," she continued, "for I had been suffering with similar troubles to those mentioned there. I had heard of Cardui all my life and I knew many women who said they had been helped by it. The very next day I began to take it.

"Very soon after, I began to notice my improvement. I began to eat till I felt like a different woman. I gained in weight, from 98 pounds to 115 and felt better than I had in years. I took six bottles right along and found it a splendid tonic. My suffering was partly due to a run-down condition and the Cardui stimulated my appetite and helped me to gain the strength I needed. So I take a bottle every now and then, even now, just as a tonic to keep up my strength, but I am in better health than I have been in for years."
